Expertise

- Procurement law
- Construction contracts
- Law of architects and engineers

Dr Geitel advises tenderers and contracting authorities on all questions of public procurement law. This includes the examination of procurement documents for possible violations of the law as well as the development of strategies for the procurement procedure and measures to enforce the tenderer's rights. Where necessary, Dr Geitel represents them in federal and regional procurement review proceedings and before Germany's Higher Courts. A further key practice area for Dr Geitel is in the field of construction law. In particular, he advises clients on the enforcement of wage claims in and out of court as well as on the settlement of business disputes during large-scale construction projects.
