EXPERTISE

- Restructuring and insolvency law
- Construction contracts
- Law of architects and engineers

Dr Sebastian Zeyns advises and represents principals and contractors on all questions of construction and architects' law. A further focus lies in insolvency law. He is active both in and out of court. His activities include in particular the legal support of construction measures, the securing of claims as well as the enforcement of rights in the case of an (imminent) insolvency of a party involved. Moreover, he advises managing directors and shareholders in the financial crisis and on all matters of claw-back claims.
